British Foreign Secretary Discusses Moroccan Crisis.

WINS SUPPORT OF COMMONS

Sir Edward Grey's Exposition of Moroccan Negotiations With Germany and Firmness He Displayed During That Period Make Favorable Impression in Parliament—Flatly Contradicts German Minister.

London, Nov. 28.—Sir Edward Grey, secretary of state for foreign affairs, laid bare in the house of commons the part Great Britain played in the negotiations on Morocco, which brought Europe very close to war during the summer.

At the outset he referred to the disclosure by the German foreign minister, Herr von Kiderlen-Waechter, of the conversations which had taken place between the German ambassador and himself. This disclosure, he said, was not complete and he was under the necessity of putting more fully before the house of commons the part taken by the British foreign office.

Sir Edward stated frankly that the greatest anxiety had existed, but fortunately was able to add that the negotiations had cleared the slate between Germany and Great Britain.

It looked on one or two occasions as if a deadlock could not be avoided. If that had come some power signatory to the Algeiras act might have suggested a conference, the course of which Germany, which had been sounded on this subject, said might not be acceptable.

Caused Intense Anxiety.

"That," declared the foreign secretary, "what caused the anxiety, for we have a situation wherein the partition of Morocco might begin without agreement between Germany, France and Spain."

Great Britain, he continued, also received information which gave rise to apprehension that the settlement contemplated by Germany might be the partition of Morocco, arrived at by negotiations to which it was not intended Great Britain should be a party. Germany disavowed this intention, stating that she desired only a rearrangement of French and German colonies.

In one respect Sir Edward's statement flatly contradicts that of the German foreign minister. The latter said that Great Britain had kept Germany waiting for an answer to the communication with regard to the dispatch of the Panther to Agadir, while the British foreign secretary insisted that the delay in replying to inquiries was all on Germany's side.

Have Confidence in Grey.

In the lobbies, after the speech, confidence was expressed in Sir Edward's conduct of affairs during the crisis and satisfaction that the government is working for better relations with Germany. It is believed that the speech will have a reassuring effect in Germany.

Later Sir Edward Grey spoke on Persian and other matters. He defended the Anglo-Russian agreement, which prevented the two nations from trying to gain advantage of each other in Persia.

The secretary's exposition of the Moroccan negotiations and the firmness he was able to show he displayed during the trying weeks won for him the support of the house, with the exception of a few radicals or "peace at any price" members, who believed that the firmness which prevented war will estrange Great Britain and Germany. His announcement that if a British minister could not say what Lloyd-George said in his much discussed speech Great Britain would cease to be a great power brought forth a great cheer, as did also his pronouncements that the cabinet would at all times protect British interests.

Situation in Northern Colorado Coal Strike Becomes Serious.

Denver, Nov. 28.—Labor troubles in the coal camps of Northern Colorado, where a strike has been in progress for some time, have reached a stage where the advisability of calling for troops is being considered, according to news received here. At Louisville, Colo., the situation is regarded as particularly critical. The mines there are owned by the Rocky Mountain Fuel company, a Wyoming corporation. President Brown of the coal company declared that unless conditions improve within the next two days he would ask Governor Shafroth for the protection of federal troops, to which, he says, the company as a non-resident property holder is entitled.

Tells House of Commons How Near England Came to War.

NEW YORK CONGRESSMAN SAYS BROKERS SEEK TO PROLONG STEEL INQUIRY IN ORDER TO FORCE DOWN THAT STOCK—DEMANDS INVESTIGATION OF COMPLAINT AND SOURCE OF AN ARTICLE IN NEW YORK PAPER ASSAILING HIM.

Washington, Nov. 28.—Charging that recent attacks upon him as a member of the house committee of inquiry into the steel trust have emanated from bear operators in Wall street, who seek to prolong the inquiry to force down steel stock, Representative Martin W. Littleton of New York demanded that the committee investigate his complaint and the source of an article assailing him which appeared last Friday in a New York newspaper.

Mr. Littleton will submit to Representative Stanley, chairman of the committee, a letter setting forth his charges and requesting that subpoenas be issued for David Lamar, a New York broker; Henry B. Martin, secretary of the National Anti-Trust league; Herman Shulteis, counsel for the National Anti-Trust league, and Jackson Tinker, the Washington correspondent of the newspaper.

"If the committee does not wish to call these witnesses," said Mr. Littleton, "I have served notice on the chairman that the committee will have to face the matter with me on the floor of the house."

To Force Down Steel Stock.

"I charge that the attack upon me was instigated by Henry B. Martin the secretary of the so called Anti-Trust league. I will show that Mr. Martin has reported progress of the committee to David Lamar, a bear operator in Wall street, whose interest in having the investigation prolonged is to hammer down the steel stock."

"I will show that Mr. Martin within the last few weeks has been consulting in New York with David Lamar and that he has been reporting to him on the work of this committee."

"I want to ask Mr. Martin and Mr. Shulteis about their anti-trust league, where their funds come from for prosecuting their work and maintaining themselves in Washington."

Mr. Littleton conferred with Chairman Stanley and Representatives Beall and McGillicuddy. Democratic members of the committee. At that conference it was agreed that Mr. Littleton should put his charges and requests for subpoenas in writing.

Chairman Stanley declared that he would make no lengthy statement relating to the controversy until he had received Mr. Littleton's formal letter.

Jackson Tinker, the Washington correspondent, whom Mr. Littleton wants subpoenaed, denied authorship of the article in the New York Press attacking Mr. Littleton.

MAINE BOARD COMING HOME

Will Report Vessel Was Blown Up From Outside.

Havana, Nov. 28.—The Maine inspection board will start for the United States this week. It has already been demonstrated to the members that the Maine was destroyed by an outside explosion, which occurred under the ship a little to the port of the keel between frames twenty-eight and thirty, where the outside skin was blown up and doubled over toward the starboard by the first explosion. After this the transverse armor bulkhead was blown a foot from frame twenty-four by a second explosion and buried itself in the mud.

There was no gold there, but in the struggle the victim's false teeth were loosened and dropped. They were taken.

CONSTRUCTIVE POLICY NEEDED

Progressives Hear Demand For Definite Program.

PEOPLE WANT LOWER PRICES

Insist on Seeing Tangible Results and Benefits From Trust Prosecutions. McCumber Appeals to Farmers to Stand by Protection—Preparing For Postal Legislation.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Nov. 28.—[Special.]—The progressive element in the Republican party has come to the conclusion that it must have a constructive policy if it is to accomplish anything and hold the confidence of the people.

"Well, what are you going to propose?" is a question which has been put to many of the leading progressives while they have been at home during the summer. "We must have a plan and a policy," remarked one of the most brainy progressives of the senate. "The people understand these questions. They are intelligent and well informed. They will not stand for mere criticism of the other fellows and a tearing down of what others have built. They will insist upon something definite which promises better conditions."

Trust Problem Especially.

It is in regard to the trust problem that the people want something substantial and definite. They want the trust question handled in a manner which will mean something to them. For years the big corporations have been abused, prosecuted, haled into court, dissolved, disbanded and anti-trust laws, and the people want to know just where they are benefited.

They would like to see tangible results in the decreased cost of goods and transportation. They want a policy pursued by the progressives which will bear fruit rather than continued complaint and criticism. At least that is the way one of the progressive senators sees it after having made a tour all over his state.

Will Their Views Change?

Quite a number of western men became tariff insurgents on account of Canadian reciprocity. Now an interesting question arises—as to whether they will relax in their insurgency in view of the defeat of reciprocity. "All or none" was a motto they were using, meaning that all should have a high tariff or none. Everybody was aware that Canadian reciprocity was likely to play havoc with the Republican majorities in the northwestern states. Its defeat by Canada may alter the political complexion a great deal.

Men like to train with their party when they can. Perhaps some of these wanderers will return. But there was developed a very strong tendency toward tariff reductions during the extra session, and it looks as if many men were so strongly committed to revision of the tariff that they cannot retrace their steps.

Going After the Farmer.

Senator McCumber of North Dakota is going after the farmer with a determination not to allow him to get away from the party of protection. The senator has written a letter on the subject for circulation in his state which points out that the farmer must stand by protection if he expects to get any real benefits out of future legislation on the tariff.

McCumber insists that at present the tendency is toward a reduction of duties because the consumers think they will get lower prices, and as the consumers are in the cities and towns those communities are supporting the lower tariff idea.

He thinks it behooves the farmers to see to it that protection is preserved, although since the Canadian reciprocity negotiations there has been a strong feeling in agricultural communities in favor of a tariff reduction all along the line.

Gathering Postal Information.

Although several committees have been at work, both in the last session and during the recess, gathering information relative to postal affairs, there has been very little said on the subject of second class mail matter.

It seems to be the general impression that even with renewed attempts to get an increased rate on second class matter there is no possibility of such an increase being adopted. It might get through the senate, although that is doubtful, but the house seems decidedly opposed to changing the rate on periodicals or newspapers.

Wiley Defines a Scientist.

It was formerly the aim of every person connected with the government, especially where money was to be expended, to try and get more out of congress each year. Dr. Wiley was before the agricultural committee and had told what he thought his bureau should have. Then the chairman passed to another bureau and began reading, "One scientist, $3,000; two assistant scientists, $2,500 each," etc. Turning to Dr. Wiley, the chairman asked:

"What is a scientist?"

"Do you mean an agricultural scientist?"

"Yes."

"Well," responded Wiley, "he is a man who makes a two dollar appropriation grow where a one dollar appropriation grew before."

Java is a tropical paradise, and the island yields immense wealth to its out-landish investors.

Defense Introduces Eyewitness to Denver Murder.

Denver, Nov. 28.—The defense in the Patterson murder case placed on the stand the mysterious eyewitness to the shooting of Charles A. Patterson by his wife, Gertrude Gibson Patterson, announcement of whose existence by Attorney Hilton in his opening statement created something of a sensation.

He was Francis J. Eastman, fifty-two years old, who testified that he had come from Minneapolis to appear in Mrs. Patterson's behalf. He came to Denver the day before the shooting, he testified, from Laramie, Wyo., where he had been employed, and left Denver two days after the shooting for Tacoma.

Eastman corroborated the story told by Mrs. Patterson that she shot her husband after he had struck her twice and knocked her down and was standing over her with his arm upraised to strike her again.

BLIZZARD SWEEPING SOUTHWEST STATES

Temperature Lowering and Wind Blows Sixty Miles an Hour.

Kansas City, Nov. 28.—A severe snow storm, driven by a wind that at times blew sixty miles an hour, raged over Kansas, Oklahoma and a great part of Missouri and reports from the affected districts showed rapidly falling temperatures.

In Kansas snow fell in every county, ranging in depth from one to three inches. At Hutchinson, windows in the high school were broken by the wind and three pupils were seriously injured by flying glass.

Snow fell all along the lines of the Frisco railroad in Oklahoma. At Hobart a sixty-five-mile wind drove a blinding snow before it, a number of small buildings were blown down and many plate glass windows in business houses were broken. Shawnee, Oklahoma City and Muskogee experienced similar conditions.

Southern Missouri and Northern Arkansas are getting snow, following rain and sleet. Amarillo, Tex., reported four inches of snow.

SLEEPS AN ENTIRE WEEK

Aged Des Moines Woman Cannot Be Awakened.

Des Moines, Nov. 28.—Mrs. L. J. Parmenter of this city has been asleep for a week and the efforts of friends and physicians to awaken her have been unavailing. She takes nourishment from a bottle as naturally as a child, but without arousing from the seemingly natural slumber.

Mrs. Parmenter is seventy-eight years old, is the mother of thirteen children and in addition to the care of the home has been a professional nurse.

Roads Won't Be Ousted.

Jefferson City, Mo., Nov. 28.—The Missouri supreme court denied the ouster asked by Governor Hadley when he was attorney general to dissolve the merger of the Gould lines of railroads and properties in this state.

GOVERNORS' SPECIAL STARTS

Will Tour Eastern States and Advise the West.

The governors' special will stop at the principal cities until New York is reached, Dec. 11. The return will be made over the Pennsylvania lines to St. Louis, returning to St. Paul Dec. 19, over the Burlington.

Seven governors and representatives of three other states were in St. Paul and started on the Eastern trip. The purpose of the trip is to invite Eastern people and Eastern capital to the Western states, to make the East acquainted with the civilization of the West and to tell the East something of what the West wants in the way of legislation.

Sneaker Asserts He Has Aided in Uniting Democrats.

FACTIONAL FIGHTING ENDS

Missourian Declares He Has Devoted the Last Three Years to Getting House Democrats Together and That Seventeen Years of Internal Dissension is at an End—Denies Favoring Annexation of Canada.

Washington, Nov. 28.—Speaker Champ Clark declared he had devoted the last three years chiefly to getting the house Democrats together and holding them together and that after seventeen years of factional fighting the Democrats "are united and by the blessings of God will remain so."

"I did not do it all, by a long shot," he added, "I had lots of help and every Democrat who participated in that troublesome, laudable work deserves full share of the honor. Where there was once despair in Democratic hearts there is high hope now."

In this way the titular head of the Democratic lower house of congress made indirect reply to criticisms of William J. Bryan as to the speaker-ship no longer carrying the leadership to the great importance of unity and wisdom among the Democrats to draw out voters not belonging to the Democratic party.

"The most important feature of the extraordinary session of congress from a political standpoint," said he, "was the fact that we pulled together, worked together, fought together and won together. We replaced the old habit of defeat with the new habit of victory, the bad fashion of quarreling among ourselves with the better fashion of taking counsel together and then presenting a solid front to the astonished enemy."

"The trend of public opinion is toward the Democrats. President Taft's long trip seems to have left things in statu quo."

Tariff the Leading Issue.

The speaker said the recent elections prove that wherever the tariff was the sole or principal issue the Democrats won and that when President Taft vetoed the tariff bills it was inevitable that the tariff would be the leading issue next year.

"One of the most preposterous canards put into public print since Gutenberg invented movable type, added the speaker, "is the charge that I am in favor of the forcible annexation of Canada. There is not a fact in the universe on which to base such a slander. I never at any time or place stated or even hinted such a wicked and quixotic scheme to any human being. I have never dreamed of such a thing and would oppose it to the utmost."

"I have frequently, for years, expressed the hope that there might be a union of the two countries by mutual consent and for the good of both. It always seemed to me a friendly suggestion, because we are neighbors of the same blood and speaking the same language, but as the Canadians do not seem to want that there is an end of it."

"What I said at Fremont, Neb., was in response to a question from a person in the audience. I said I had never thought of anything but a union of the two countries by mutual consent. I did not say that it is an issue or ever would be, or that I desired it or but, but if Canada were agreeable nine-tenths of the people of the United States would endorse the idea."

SERIOUS DISORDER GREET'S IRISH PLAY

New York Audience Pelts Actors With Refuse.

New York, Nov. 28.—Riotous disorder broke out at a performance which the Irish players, recently arrived from Dublin, attempted of "The Playboy of the Western World," at Maxine Elliott's theater. Much refuse was thrown at the actors and police reserves were called. Ten prisoners were taken.

The uproar started as soon as the curtain rose on the first act and so interrupted the performance that at the end of the act Alfred O'Donovan, who played the part of Playboy, announced that the act would be repeated. By this time most of the rioters had been arrested and dispersed and the repetition of the first act was accompanied by but little trouble.

The Irish players believe there was concerted action on the part of the disturbers. Potatoes, eggs, vegetables and other missiles were thrown on the stage and several of the actors were struck. Miss Ethne McGee received a particularly hard blow on the head by a potato.

"The Playboy of the Western World," as written by Synge and staged by Lady Gregory, was declared in a resolution recently passed by the United Irish societies as an insult to the Irish race in that it held to be immoral and made a hero out of a patricide.

CONSTRUCTIVE POLICY NEEDED

Progressives Hear Demand For Definite Program.

PEOPLE WANT LOWER PRICES

Insist on Seeing Tangible Results and Benefits From Trust Prosecutions. McCumber Appeals to Farmers to Stand by Protection—Preparing For Postal Legislation.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.
Washington, Nov. 28.—[Special.]—The progressive element in the Republican party has come to the conclusion that it must have a constructive policy if it is to accomplish anything and hold the confidence of the people.

"Well, what are you going to propose?" is a question which has been put to many of the leading progressives while they have been at home during the summer. "We must have a plan and a policy," remarked one of the most brainy progressives of the senate. "The people understand these questions. They are intelligent and well informed. They will not stand for mere criticism of the other fellows and a tearing down of what others have built. They will insist upon something definite which promises better conditions."

Trust Problem Especially.

It is in regard to the trust problem that the people want something substantial and definite. They want the trust question handled in a manner which will mean something to them. For years the big corporations have been abused, prosecuted, haled into court, dissolved, disbanded and anti-trust laws, and the people want to know just where they are benefited.

They would like to see tangible results in the decreased cost of goods and transportation. They want a policy pursued by the progressives which will bear fruit rather than continued complaint and criticism. At least that is the way one of the progressive senators sees it after having made a tour all over his state.

Will Their Views Change?

Quite a number of western men became tariff insurgents on account of Canadian reciprocity. Now an interesting question arises as to whether they will relax in their insurgency in view of the defeat of reciprocity. "All or none" was a motto they were using, meaning that all should have a high tariff or none. Everybody was aware that Canadian reciprocity was likely to play havoc with the Republican majorities in the northwestern states. Its defeat by Canada may alter the political complexion a great deal. Men like to train with their party when they can. Perhaps some of these wanderers will return. But there was developed a very strong tendency toward tariff reductions during the extra session, and it looks as if many men were so strongly committed to revision of the tariff that they cannot retrace their steps.

Going After the Farmer.

Senator McCumber of North Dakota is going after the farmer with a determination not to allow him to get away from the party of protection. The senator has written a letter on the subject for circulation in his state which points out that the farmer must stand by protection if he expects to get any real benefits out of future legislation on the tariff.

McCumber insists that at present the tendency is toward a reduction of duties because the consumers think they will get lower prices, and as the consumers are in the cities and towns those communities are supporting the lower tariff idea.

He thinks it behooves the farmers to see to it that protection is preserved, although since the Canadian reciprocity negotiations there has been a strong feeling in agricultural communities in favor of a tariff reduction all along the line.

Gathering Postal Information.

Although several committees have been at work, both in the last session and during the recess, gathering information relative to postal affairs, there has been very little said on the subject of second class mail matter.

It seems to be the general impression that even with renewed attempts to get an increased rate on second class matter there is no possibility of such an increase being adopted. It might get through the senate, although that is doubtful, but the house seems decidedly opposed to changing the rate on periodicals or newspapers.

Wiley Defines a Scientist.

It was formerly the aim of every person connected with the government, especially where money was to be expended, to try and get more out of congress each year. Dr. Wiley was before the agricultural committee and had told what he thought his bureau should have. Then the chairman passed to another bureau and began reading, "One scientist, $5,000; two assistant scientists, $2,500 each," etc. Turning to Dr. Wiley, the chairman asked: "What is a scientist?"

"Do you mean an agricultural scientist?"

"Yes," responded Wiley, "he is a man who makes a two dollar appropriation grow where a one dollar appropriation grew before."

SAW PATTERSON HIT WIFE

Defense Introduces Eyewitness to Denver Murder.

Denver, Nov. 28.—The defense in the Patterson murder case placed on the stand the mysterious eyewitness to the shooting of Charles A. Patterson by his wife, Gertrude Gibson Patterson, announcement of whose existence by Attorney Hilton in his opening statement created something of a sensation.

He was Francis J. Eastman, fifty-two years old, who testified that he had come from Minneapolis to appear in Mrs. Patterson's behalf. He came to Denver the day before the shooting, he testified, from Laramie, Wyo., where he had been employed, and left Denver two days after the shooting for Tacoma.

Eastman corroborated the story told by Mrs. Patterson that she shot her husband after he had struck her twice and knocked her down and was standing over her with his arm upraised to strike her again.

BLIZZARD SWEEPING SOUTHWEST STATES

Temperature Lowering and Wind Blows Sixty Miles an Hour.

Kansas City, Nov. 28.—A severe snow storm, driven by a wind that at times blew sixty miles an hour, raged over Kansas, Oklahoma and a great part of Missouri and reports from the affected districts showed rapidly falling temperatures.

In Kansas snow fell in every county, ranging in depth from one to three inches. At Hutchinson, windows in the high school were broken by the wind and three pupils were seriously injured by flying glass.

Snow fell all along the lines of the Frisco railroad in Oklahoma. At Hobart a sixty-five-mile wind drove a blinding snow before it, a number of small buildings were blown down and many plate glass windows in business houses were broken. Shawnee, Oklahoma City and Muskogee experienced similar conditions.

Southern Missouri and Northern Arkansas are getting snow, following rain and sleet. Amarillo, Tex., reported four inches of snow.

SLEEPS AN ENTIRE WEEK

Des Moines, Nov. 28.—Mrs. L. J. Parmenter of this city has been asleep for a week and the efforts of friends and physicians to awaken her have been unavailing. Mrs. Parmenter is seventy-eight years old, is the mother of thirteen children and in addition to the care of the home has been a professional nurse.

GOVERNORS' SPECIAL STARTS

Will Tour Eastern States and Advise the West.

The governors' special will stop at the principal cities until New York is reached, Dec. 11. The return will be made over the Pennsylvania lines to St. Louis, returning to St. Paul Dec. 19, over the Burlington.

Seven governors and representatives of three other states were in St. Paul and started on the Eastern trip. The purpose of the trip is to invite Eastern people and Eastern capital to the Western states, to make the East acquainted with the civilization of the West and to tell the East something of what the West wants in the way of legislation.

Sneaker Asserts He Has Aided in Uniting Democrats.

FACTIONAL FIGHTING ENDS

Missourian Declares He Has Devoted the Last Three Years to Getting House Democrats Together and That Seventeen Years of Internal Dissension is at an End—Denies Favoring Annexation of Canada.

Washington, Nov. 28.—Speaker Champ Clark declared he had devoted the last three years chiefly to getting the house Democrats together and holding them together and that after seventeen years of factional fighting the Democrats "are united and by the blessings of God will remain so."

"I did not do it all by a long shot," he added, "I had lots of help and every Democrat who participated in that troublesome, laudable work deserves full share of the honor. Where there was once despair in Democratic hearts there is high hope now."

In this way the titular head of the Democratic lower house of congress made indirect reply to criticisms of William J. Bryan as to the speaker's no longer carrying the leadership of the house. Mr. Clark referred to the great importance of unity and wisdom among the Democrats to draw out voters not belonging to the Democratic party.

"The most important feature of the extraordinary session of congress from a political standpoint," said he, "was the fact that we pulled together, worked together, fought together and won together. We replaced the old habit of defeat with the new habit of victory, the bad fashion of quarreling among ourselves with the better fashion of taking counsel together and then presenting a solid front to the astonished enemy."

"The trend of public opinion is toward the Democrats. President Taft's long trip seems to have left things in statu quo."

Tariff the Leading Issue.

The speaker said the recent elections prove that wherever the tariff was the sole or principal issue the Democrats won and that when President Taft vetoed the tariff bills it was inevitable that the tariff would be the leading issue next year.

"One of the most preposterous canards put into public print since Gutenberg invented movable type, added the speaker, "is the charge that I am in favor of the forcible annexation of Canada. There is not a fact in the universe on which to base such a slander. I never at any time or place stated or even hinted such a wicked and quixotic scheme to any human being. I have never dreamed of such a thing and would oppose it to the utmost."

"I have frequently, for years, expressed the hope that there might be a union of the two countries by mutual consent and for the good of both. It always seemed to me a friendly suggestion, because we are neighbors of the same blood and speaking the same language, but as the Canadians do not seem to want that there is an end of it."

"What I said at Fremont, Neb., was in response to a question from a person in the audience. I said I had never thought of anything but a union of the two countries by mutual consent. I did not say that it is an issue or ever would be, or that I desired it to be, but if Canada were agreeable nine-tenths of the people of the United States would endorse the idea."

Three contractors are figuring on the building and if satisfactory arrangements can be made the construction of the cement block building measuring a story in height and 50 by 100 feet in size, will be commenced. The structure will occupy lots 6 and 7, block 67. Tentative plans provide that the south half of the building will be occupied first by the office, then by four screened stalls for automobiles, each stall measuring 9 by 18 feet; and by the shop at the rear end. The north half of the building will be used for the storage of cars. A system of air, water and gasoline delivery of the latest type will be installed. The building will be of fire proof and most commodious construction and its situation on a main street and one much used by auto drivers will do much to bring business to the concern.

THIRTY-FIVE INITIATED

Large Class of Candidates Initiated by the Brotherhood of American Yeomen Last Night

Monday evening witnessed a brilliant scene in the Brotherhood of American Yeomen lodge circles in this city. It was the occasion of the initiation of 35 candidates into the secrets of the order, the degree work being exemplified by the well drilled team of Homestead No. 602, the original branch of Yeomanry in Brainerd.

Each Yeoman of No. 602 had the privilege of inviting two couples of friends and each availed himself of the prerogative so that at nine o'clock there were fully 500 people at the commodious quarters of the order in the Iron Exchange building. Mrs. Allie Gaffney, the deputy for Crow Wing county, with the loyal assistance of her friends, had gathered the candidates for the big class. It was expected that Grand Foreman Koch and Mr. Stallkop of Des Moines Iowa, and State Manager Murphy, of St. Paul, would be present, but they were unable, on account of inclement weather, to be in attendance. District Manager Theil, of Staples, was present.

After the lengthy initiatory work the floor was cleared of chairs and dancing was the next order of the program, the music being furnished by John A. and Miss Ida Hoffbauer. A fine luncheon was served by the ladies in the banquet hall and all spoke highly of this feature. All enjoyed the hospitality of the Yeomen of No. 602 and were pleased to spend such a pleasant evening.

Farewell for Mr. Frater

The Walker Pilot says: The evening before he was to take his departure a farewell party was tendered to John T. Frater at the home of Mr. Giegoldt. At about eight p. m. the company met at Dr. Webber's home bearing sundry mysterious baskets and boxes and marched in a body to the Giegoldt home and Mr. Frater was summoned from the office to this genuine surprise party, and met his friends with feeling in which pleasure and pain were mingled. The ladies brewed the festive coffee and set forth in tempting array the sandwiches, salads, cakes and ices, and all enjoyed the feast. Mr. Walters who was delegated to make the speech of the evening, did so with appropriate remarks set to verse. The gift which accompanied his speech was some lace made by the Indians of Onigum. Mr. Frater's surprise was too great for words, and Mr. Giegoldt rose to the occasion with a few happy remarks. Mr. Frater then thanked his friends heartily for the great and unexpected pleasure, and assured them that their beautiful gift would be a constant reminder of the pleasant associations of the past five years. A quartet then sang the parting song "God be With You Till We Meet Again," and the company dispersed feeling that honor had been rendered where honor was due.

"HOW WE ARE GOUGED"

W. F. Ries Spoke at Walker Hall Last Evening on This Subject Under Auspices of Socialists

The first of a series of five lectures to be given in Brainerd under the direction of the National Socialist Lecture bureau, was delivered to a large audience at Walker hall last evening by W. F. Ries, of Ohio.

"How We Are Gouged" was the subject of the lecture and the press notices given Mr. Ries in places where he has spoken confirmed his character as an energetic public speaker.

"Socialism is a question which the people of today owe it to themselves to understand," said Mr. Ries. "With most people socialism is considered something to be disposed of in the distant future. As a matter of fact Socialism is here. The returns of our recent elections should be sufficient to convince the most skeptical person of that fact. The series of lectures which are to be given in Brainerd and which commenced Monday evening, should be attended by all persons who desire to know what socialism is and what it stands for."

THIRTY YEARS IN THE RIVER

River Bed Between Brainerd and Minneapolis Paved With Logs—Have Been There for Years

That the season which closed Nov. 4 was the biggest year in the number of 'dead-head' logs, fished out of the Mississippi river between Brainerd and Minneapolis, was the statement made by Walter Ford, inspector of the Mississippi & Rum River Boom company, who is registered at the Vendome hotel, says the Little Falls Herald.

"The river between here and Brainerd," said Mr. Ford, "is in some places literally paved with logs that have sunk, and it is these that the company is getting up at the rate of 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 feet a year. About 20,000,000 feet have been rescued already, and probably there is at least 50,000,000 feet more buried in the mud. Some of the logs that we got up this year had marks on them of lumber companies that have been out of business for nearly thirty years, and it is safe to say that there are logs still at the bottom of the river that have been there well onto half a century. I know a certain place where there is 'dead water,' where the logs lie in the bottom in tiers six and eight deep, and no one can tell how many more are completely out of sight in the mud below them. These mostly represent Norway tops that have been forced under the rafts in log jams, and already heavy with sap, have become water-soaked and sunk to the bottom. We raise these, stack them up on the river bank and allow them to dry out for at least a year, when they are put back into the river, floated down stream and delivered to their rightful owners if the old brands are still recognizable. Those not identified are sold for the common good of the lumber companies that form the boom company.

"The lumber made from these old logs is not, of course, of the highest grade, but is plenty good enough timber for rough work."

Mr. Ford returns to his home in Fergus Falls in a few days, where he will wait for the opening of the river in the spring.

THANKSGIVING HOURS

Postoffice Will be Open From 9 Until 10 in the Morning for the Delivery of Mail

The general delivery and stamp windows will be open on Thanksgiving morning from 9 until 10 o'clock for the delivery of mail and the people served by carrier will be waited on at the desks of the carriers, the general public entering the postoffice workroom through the door leading from the lobby into the postmasters' room and will continue down the line receiving their mail and passing out of the rear entrance. There will be no delivery by carrier either in the city or country during the day and the postoffice will not be open for the delivery of mail excepting as stated above, but the lobby of the office will be accessible as usual from 6 a. m. until 8:30 p. m. for the benefit of box renters. ### Immense Foreign Estates

Emperor William of Germany, is the greatest land owner in that country, with 83 estates comprising 250,000 acres. The revenues from these estates flow into the kaiser's pockets in addition to his allowance of five millions from the government annually. Other large landowners are Prince Pless, 125,000 acres; Duke of Ujest, 100,000 acres; King of Saxony, 75,000 acres. You may not have great estates, but you can be as happy as a king if you use golden grain belt beers, which cost most to make, but cost you no more than others. President Howard Elliot, Second Vice President Jule M. Hannaford and Third Vice President George T. Slade, of St. Paul, officials of the Northern Pacific railway, arrived in special at Brainerd on Tuesday morning at four o'clock.

The gentlemen were asleep in the Pullman and it was not possible to have an interview at that time. The state car of W. H. Gemmell, the general manager of the Minnesota and International railway, was attached to the president's special.

The party was augmented at Brainerd by the following officials of the Minnesota & International railway: General Manager W. H. Gemmell, Auditor M. W. Downie and Train Master George H. Warner. The Northern Pacific railway officials will inspect the M. & I. and take notes of the needs of the surrounding territory.

It is believed that their trip means more improvements or greater development for the railway and the territory it traverses.

The special has the right of way in their tour the party will visit entire M. & I. territory, continuing from Fort Francis to Emerson traveling also over the Canadian Northern lines, returning thence to Paul.

The special left the Brainerd depot promptly seven o'clock, passed through the yards and sped northward on its long journey.

THIRTY-FIVE INITIATED

Large Class of Candidates Initiated by the Brotherhood of American Yeomen Last Night

Monday evening witnessed a brilliant scene in the Brotherhood of American Yeomen lodge circles in this city. It was the occasion of the initiation of 35 candidates into the secrets of the order, the degree work being exemplified by the well drilled team of Homestead No. 602, the original branch of Yeomanry in Brainerd.

Each Yeoman of No. 602 had the privilege of inviting two couples of friends and each availed himself of the prerogative so that at nine o'clock there were fully 500 people at the commodious quarters of the order in the Iron Exchange building. Mrs. Allie Gaffney, the deputy for Crow Wing county, with the loyal assistance of her friends, had gathered the candidates for the big class. It was expected that Grand Foreman Koch and Mr. Stallkop of Des Moines Iowa, and State Manager Murphy, of St. Paul, would be present, but they were unable, on account of inclement weather, to be in attendance. District Manager Theil, of Staples, was present.

After the lengthy initiatory work the floor was cleared of chairs and dancing was the next order of the program, the music being furnished by John A. and Miss Ida Hoffbauer. A fine luncheon was served by the ladies in the banquet hall and all enjoyed highly of this feature. All enjoyed the hospitality of the Yeomen of No. 602 and were pleased to spend such a pleasant evening.

Koppenberg—Huffman

The marriage of Gustave A. Koppenberg and Rachel Huffman, both of Graff, near Pequot, was solemnized yesterday afternoon at the parsonage of the Methodist Episcopal church.

The lines of the ring service of the church were read by the Rev. Charles Fox Davis and the ceremony was witnessed by a few friends of the contracting parties.

The young couple left on the night train for Pequot, thence to Graff, at which place they will make their future home.

MILL CITY SUICIDE AND NEAR MURDER

Special to Dispatch:—

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 28.—Chris Gehring, twenty years old, is dead and his wife, aged twenty, who has been living with her father, is perhaps mortally wounded as the result of Gehring's attempt today to slay her and then commit suicide.

The couple were married two years ago, but lived together only a short time.

Farewell for Mr. Frater

The evening before he was to take his departure a farewell party was tendered to John T. Frater at the home of Mr. Giegoldt. At about eight p. m. the company met at Dr. Webber's home bearing sundry mysterious baskets and boxes and marched in a body to the Giegoldt home and Mr. Frater was summoned from the office to this genuine surprise party, and met his friends with feeling in which pleasure and pain were mingled. The ladies brewed the festive coffee and set forth in tempting array the sandwiches, salads, cakes and ices, and all enjoyed the feast. Mr. Walters who was deputed to make the speech of the evening, did so with appropriate remarks set to verse. The gift which accompanied his speech was some lace made by the Indians of Onigum. Mr. Frater's surprise was too great for words, and Mr. Giegoldt rose to the occasion with a few happy remarks. Mr. Frater then thanked his friends heartily for the great and unexpected pleasure, and assured them that their beautiful gift would be a constant reminder of the pleasant associations of the past five years. A quartet then sang the parting song "God be With You Till We Meet Again," and the company dispersed feeling that honor had been rendered where honor was due.

"HOW WE ARE GOUGED"

W. F. Ries Spoke at Walker Hall Last Evening on This Subject Under Auspices of Socialists

The first of a series of five lectures to be given in Brainerd under the direction of the National Socialist Lecture bureau, was delivered to a large audience at Walker hall last evening by W. F. Ries, of Ohio.

"How We Are Gouged" was the subject of the lecture and the press notices given Mr. Ries in places where he has spoken confirmed his character as an energetic public speaker.

"Socialism is a question which the people of today owe it to themselves to understand," said Mr. Ries. "With most people socialism is considered something to be disposed of in the distant future. As a matter of fact Socialism is here. The returns of our recent elections should be sufficient to convince the most skeptical person of that fact. The series of lectures which are to be given in Brainerd and which commenced Monday evening, should be attended by all persons who desire to know what socialism is and what it stands for."

THIRTY YEARS IN THE RIVER

River Bed Between Brainerd and Minneapolis Paved With Logs —Have Been There for Years

That the season which closed Nov. 4 was the biggest year in the number of 'dead-head' logs, fished out of the Mississippi river between Brainerd and Minneapolis, was the statement made by Walter Ford, inspector of the Mississippi & Rum River Boom company, who is registered at the Vendome hotel, says the Little Falls Herald.

"The river between here and Brainerd," said Mr. Ford, "is in some places literally paved with logs that have sunk, and it is these that the company is getting up at the rate of 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 feet a year. About 20,000,000 feet have been rescued already, and probably there is at least 50,000,000 feet more buried in the mud. Some of the logs that we got up this year had marks on them of lumber companies that thirty years, and it is safe to say that there are logs still at the bottom of the river that have been there well onto half a century. I know a certain place where there is 'dead water,' where the logs lie in the bottom in tiers six and eight deep, and no one can tell how many more are completely out of sight in the mud below them. These mostly represent Norway tops that have been forced under the rafts in log jams, and already heavy with sap, have become water-soaked and sunk to the bottom. We raise these, stack them up on the river bank and allow them to dry out for at least a year, when they are put back into the river, floated down stream and delivered to their rightful owners if the old brands are still recognizable. Those not identified are sold for the common good of the lumber companies that form the boom company."

"The lumber made from these old logs is not, of course, of the highest grade, but is plenty good enough timber for rough work."

Mr. Ford returns to his home in Fergus Falls in a few days, where he will wait for the opening of the river in the spring.

At the Grand

One of the important events at the Grand is the return of Hally, the man with the golden voice. Mr. Hally comes back from an engagement at St. Cloud. He has a well trained voice and his enunciation is almost perfect, two things which are absolutely necessary for one who wishes to make a success singing illustrated songs in a moving picture show.

In addition to Hally the Grand has a fine selection of moving pictures and the show is well worthy a visit.

At the Empress

The announcement made by Manager Laymon that the Empress will feature the world's series of ball games between the New York giants and the Philadelphia Athletics has attracted as much interest among the baseball fans and sport loving people of Brainerd as a real game between Brainerd and Little Falls. The house is assured of every seat being taken when these pictures are displayed.

Manager Laymon also features the Pathe weekly bulletin of news, displayed at his house. This is the greatest news medium the world has even seen as it shows current events in pictorial form, events which have occurred right up to the time of display.

Miss Carleton is heard in popular songs and her singing has found a warm place in the heart of every Empress theatre goer.

Vaudeville at Opera House

The Brainerd opera house put on two vaudeville acts last night which were the best ever seen in the city and the large audience present was enthusiastic in its applause. Miss Mae Harding, a dainty, clever and artistic entertainer, appeared first and with the clever songs won approval.

During the entire act the applause was incessant and there is no question but that Maanger Brown has secured an attraction which is a headliner. The vaudeville show should pack the house tonight at both performances. A specially good program of moving pictures is shown. Tonight the management will give away six Thanksgiving turkeys at the end of the second show and the holders of tickets must be in the house at the time the drawing in order to participate.

Vaudeville at Opera House

The Brainerd opera house put on two vaudeville acts last night which were the best ever seen in the city and the large audience present was enthusiastic in its applause. Miss Mae Harding, a dainty, clever and artistic entertainer, appeared first and with the clever songs won approval.

BAKING-POWDER

Absolutely Pure

No Alum No Lime Phosphates

Miss Harding takes the part of a "chap" and gives an impersonation which is entirely pleasing and entertaining. The Tetsuwari Troupe of Japanese jugglers and balancers is by all means the best in that line and pull off stunt after stunt that is sensational and startling. During the entire act the applause was incessant and there is no question but that Manager Brown has secured an attraction which is a headliner. The vaudeville show should pack the house tonight at both performances. A specially good program of moving pictures is shown. Tonight the management will give away six Thanksgiving turkeys at the end of the second show and the holders of tickets
